Daniel Jackson (Managing Director)

Born in Port Augusta, I have strong cultural connections across South Australia. My paternal grandparents are from the Adnyamathanha Nation, with ties to the Yadlyiyauda and Kuyani people. My maternal grandmother is an Arabana woman, and my maternal grandfather is Kurna and Narungga. These connections to country guide my values, work ethic, and commitment to community.

Professionally I bring over 20 years industrial services experience within the mining, oil and gas sectors, including direct involvement in the delivery of major civil infrastructure projects throughout the state.

This combination of cultural grounding and practical industry experience allows me to approach projects and business with a strong work ethic, attention to detail, and respect for people, place and community.
